The Semi-Automatic Ground Environment (SAGE) was a system of large computers and associated networking equipment that coordinated data from many radar sites and processed it to produce a single unified image of the airspace over a wide area. SAGE directed and controlled the NORAD response to a Soviet air attack, operating in this role from the late 1950s into the 1980s.

Most quantitative studies follow these steps: 1) Select the target population, 2) Select the accessible population, 3) State the eligibility criteria, 4) Outline the sampling plan, and 5) recruit the sample. Most qualitative studies might evolve this way: 1) a general idea of where and with what population to start and by soliciting a few cases through convenience procedures, 2) successive
